WE'RE FOR AMERICA @ AMERICANS!

The best way to get rid of a bad law is to enforce it.—General Grant.

HON. SAMUEL J. PUGH has THE LEDGER's thanks for the Congressional Record.

THE Chicago News says burglars broke into a New York Editor's house, but it is not known how much they lost.

THE "reformers" at Cincinnati have already fallen out among themselves, and there's a h. o. t. with the pitch just billion' over.

MR. BRYAN must not forget to tell the Mexicans how to bring their silver up to a parity with gold. That is what he promised the United States in case of his election.

WHAT has become of the bewhiskered PEPPER of Kansas anyway? Since McKinley times have enabled the farmers of his state to pay off $30,000,000 of their mortgages, it is time for him to give one loud and final howl.

A FEW nights ago a "burglar" broke into the residence of an official of the Cincinnati Gas Company. Guess it was some citizens who had made up his mind to give the gas man a dose of his own medicine.

PEOPLE talk about the enormous amounts paid out for pensions just as if the money was destroyed and lost forever. They forgot that the Pension Bureau is the medium through which more money is placed "in the hands of the people" than by any other source.

THE calamity howler points the finger of scorn Southward and shrieks: "A strike of the cotton mill operatives at Atlanta. Is that prosperity?" No, says The Cincinnati Times-Tribune: It is long dash foolishness. Because the mill owners reduce one man's pay from $1 to 75 cents for two hours work is no reason why 400 other men should choose to remain in idleness instead of receiving wages ranging from $1 to 75 to a day.

THE Civil Service Reformers are on the run, and prominent Congressmen who in good faith voted for the law are now, in view of the bad faith in which it has been applied by the Democrats, apologizing for the votes they then gave.

The following dispatch from Washington, under date of December 14th, tells the tale:

"The topic most discussed nowadays in Washington is the Civil Service and its possible fate. As far as I understand it may be in the Reform Association as it exists in Cincinnati Thursday, there are many indications of a reversal of views on this question. Nowhere was this made more apparent than in the House this afternoon when, in Representative BARRETT's assault upon General GROSVENOR's attitude in opposition to the announced views of President McKinley and the declaration of the St. Louis Convention, he read the names of members of the present House who voted for and against the measure when it became a law in 1883. No sooner had he done this than General STEELE of Indiana arose and said he gloried most in his vote against the bill, that in any other vote he had cast while in Congress, Mr. Barret of Indiana spoke likewise. Then, in rapid succession, MARSH of Illinois, Uncle JOE CANON of Illinois, BINGHAM of Pennsylvania and others who had voted for the law arose, and in one form or another apologized for their votes."

THE BLUE LAWS!

Narrowness of Puritan Founders of Thanksgiving.

DRUM, TRUMPET, JEWISHARP.

These Were the Only Musical Instruments Allowed.

SOME METHODS OF TORTURE.

Philadelphia Times.

When you give thanks for the blessings of the year just passed, you may have any deep thoughts on the subject at all, your mind must naturally revert to those Puritans who introduced the custom. Thanksgiving giving into this country. While it has a Hebrew origin, suggested by the Feast of Tabernacles, the Pilgrims grew into the custom while in Holland, where they were exiles from England, and brought it with them to New England on the Mayflower. The story of its growth is an oft-told tale, but while Thanksgiving Day has been a New England institution since the days of Governor Bradford, it was not made the subject of Presidential proclamation until during Civil War, when Abraham Lincoln gave it National enunciation. Today there is not a Governor of the forty-five states who does not summon the people of his Commonwealth to praise and prayer on the last Thursday in November. Yet, when one studies the rigid habits, the cruelty, the domestic narrow-mindedness, the social rigidity of those who gave this day its being in this country, it is marvelous that such an occasion of rejoicing should bear the impress of men who found joy apparently only in the misery of others.

Harsh language, but true.

What justifies such a criticism? It is warranted by what are known as "The Connecticut Blue Laws." They were ordained by the people of New Haven previous to their incorporation with the Saybrook and Hartford colonies. The narrator will read for your benefit the substance of these restrictions as given by Dr. Bombaugh—a wonderful gleaner, by the way, in the harvest fields of literature—the language necessarily being modernized. Here they are:

Faith not Hewett; Make-peace-Heston; God reward Smart; Stand - fast on high Stringed; Old power; Be courteous Cole; Search - the Script - ure; and protect; Kill not Jeiner; More-fruit Flower; Graceful Harding; Beech - wood; Elected Mitchell; Fly debate Robers; Hope for Bending; Beech - wood; Elected Mitchell; The peace - of God Knight; Accepted Trevor.

From the early records of Massachusetts, recording some singular punishments that were inflicted in that colony more than two hundred years ago, we learn what a cheerful sort of people gave to the Thanksgiving Day custom. Here are some sample illustrations:

Sir Richard Salstonstall, fined four bushels of malt for his absence from the court.

Josias Plaistow, for stealing four bushels of corn from the Indians, to return them eight bushels again, to be fined £5 and hereafter be called Josias, not Mr. as he used to be.

No man to cross a river but with an authorized ferryman.

One shall run on the Sabbath Day or walk in his garden or elsewhere, except reverently to and from meeting.

Cap. Stone, for abusing Mr. Ludlow by calling him justas, fined £100 and prohibited coming within the patent.

Joyce Dradwick, to give unto Alexander Beckes 20s; for promising him marriage without her friends' consent, and now refusing to perform the same.

Richard Turner, for being notoriously drunk, fined £2.

Edward Palmer, for his extortion in taking $20.7d. for the plank and work of Boston stocks, fined £5 and sentenced to sit one hour in the stocks.

John Wythe, bound in £10 to good behavior, and not come into the company of his neighbor Thomas Bell's wife alone.

It must be confessed that there are some commendable conditions in these punishments.

While in the absence of any information as to Mr. Ludlow's judicial qualifications, we cannot say whether or not Capt. Stone was warranted in mispronouncing what should be the honored term of "justice," yet the rigor whereby Palmer the contractor was obliged to sit one hour in the stocks that he had constructed and then made an overcharge for, will command itself to many good citizens of this town of us who have seen contractors was rich by overcharge of a slightly more excessive character than the one mentioned, and contractors of over two hundred years ago.

When it appears that an accused has confederates, and he refuses to discover them, he may be racked.

One shall buy or sell lands without permission of the selectmen.

A drunckard shall have a master appointed by the selectmen, who are to deprive him the liberty of buying and selling.

Whoever publishes a lie to the prejudice of his neighbor shall sit in the stocks or be whipped fifteen stripes.

No Minister shall keep a school.

Men-stealers shall suffer death.

Whoever wears clothes trimmed with gold, silver or bone lace, above two shillings by the yard, shall be presented by the Grand Jurors and the selectmen shall tax the offender at £300 estate.

A debtor in prison, swearing that he has no estate, shall be let out and sold to make satisfaction.

Whoever sets a fire in the woods, and it burns a house, shall suffer death; and persons suspected of this crime shall be imprisoned without benefit of bail.

Whoever brings cards or dice into the dominion shall pay a fine of £5.

No one shall read common prayer, keep Christmas or saint days, make mincemeat pies, dance, play cards or play on any instrument of music, except the drum, trumpet and jewsharp.

No Gospel Minister shall join people in marriage; the Magistrates only shall join in marriage, as they may do it with less scandal to Christ's church.

When parents refuse their children convenient marriage the Magistrates shall determine the point.

The selection, on finding children ignorant, may take them away from their parents and put them in better hands at the expense of the parents.

A man that strikes his wife shall pay a fine of £10; a woman that strikes her husband shall be punished as the court directs.

A wife shall be deemed good evidence against her husband.

Married persons must live together or be imprisoned.

No man shall court a maid in person or by letter without first obtaining consent of her parents; £5 penalty for the first offense: £10 for the second, and the third imprisonment during the pleasure of the court.

Every male shall have his hair cut round according to a cap.

Imagine the community whose ears should be tortured only by the drum, trumpet and jewsharp! And then what an easy prevention of divorce suits is contained in the command that "married persons must live together or be imprisoned."

In these days, however, that might act as a bar, for I fear there are some people who would sooner go to prison than to confine their present marital relations, but the mental fabric of the folks who ordained these social conditions can be partially judged from the character of the names they espoused.

See Lower's "English Surnames" there are specimens given of the cognomines of the Puritans in England about the year 1658. They were taken from a jury list in Sussex county and are as follows:

Faith not Hewett; Make-peace-Heston;

God reward Smart; Stand - fast on high;

Stringed; Old power;

Be courteous Cole;

Search - the Script - ure; and protect;

Kill not Jeiner;

More-fruit Flower;

Graceful Harding;

Beech - wood;

Elected Mitchell;

Fly debate Robers;

Hope for Bending;

Beech - wood;

Elected Mitchell;

The peace - of God Knight;

Accepted Trevor.

The Making of the Boundary Between This Country and Mexico—A Bankruptcy Bill to Be Reported This Week—Important Legislation for Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The senate committee on naval affairs Wednesday discussed informally the plans of the navy department for the increase of the number and the improvement of the existing dry docks. Senator Hale, the bill recently introduced by Senator Hale, but took no action beyond authorizing Senator Hale to confer with the house naval committee with the view of securing joint action of the two houses on the bill, which might be voted upon. There was a general expression of opinion favorable to the increase of the country's facilities. The present indication is that legislation in this direction will be attempted on the naval appropriation bill.

The committee also discussed at some length the question of armor plate and steel to be used in Secretary Evans' bill. It was agreed that the bill should appear before the committee as an early date and explain the status of the department's efforts to secure low prices on the manufacture of plate.

In the executive session the senate Wednesday treated, between the country and Mexico, pending for a day the time for marking the boundary line between the two countries was received and referred to the house on four separate bills, each of which was referred to the appropriate committee.

The various House nominations sent to the senate Wednesday were also referred to the proper committees.

The house judiciary committee agreed to a bill introduced by Senator Henderson to amend the bankruptcy bill so that it would be reported to the house this week as early as possible. The committee was in session throughout Wednesday, and when the measure was finally passed Chairman Henderson was authorized to introduce the bill, and it will be reported to the house this week as early as possible.

The committee was in session throughout Wednesday, and when the measure was finally passed Chairman Henderson was authorized to introduce the bill, and it will be reported to the house this week as early as possible.

There were two important changes from the bill, as reported by the sub-committee. The bill as drawn provided in effect that all liens created by judgment and attachment attached with four months of filing, and in bankruptcy should be void, or if enforced go for the benefit of the creditors, and also that all money collected by the enforcement of such a lien should be paid over to the trustee in bankruptcy.

This was modified so that these liens will not be affected unless obtained in fraud of the act.

The provisions of the bill creating other liens payable by fine imposition were also removed by making many of such offenses cause for refusing a discharge in bankruptcy instead of punishable otherwise.

Senator Frye Wednesday introduced bill to appropriate $40,000 for the construction of a vessel for the revenue cutter service on the Yukon river, and appropriating $40,000 for this purpose.

Senator Faulkner introduced a bill to appropriate $40,000 for Cook's Inlet, Tanana and Yukon Railroad Co., authorizing the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from Tuxedat harbor on Cook's Inlet in Alaska through Manasta pass, the Yukon and Tanana and along the Yukon and Tanana rivers and to Norton sound.

The capital stock of the company is fixed at $60,000,000. Ex-Senator Squire, of the state of Washington, is one of the incorporators.

A bill introduced by Senator Elkins restores all the lands in the Annette Island, Alaska, to the public domain except those in the southwestern peninsula of the island. The bill has been introduced for the use of the Indians by act of congress, but the bill sets forth that they occupy only this peninsula and that the other portions contain valuable mineral deposits, which give rise to the reasons for the proposed legislation.

The populists have decided to hold a caucus Thursday night to outline their policies on pending questions. They will propose to oppose the withdrawal of the members of the extension of further privileges to national banks, the annexation of Hawaii and favor the recognition of Cuban independence and the return of the Philippines to Spain.

Wednesday, Dec. 16.—President McKinley, the members of the cabinet and others who went to Canton on account of the illness and death of the president, now rest in New York, and have been invited to stay for the use of the Indians by act of congress, but the bill sets forth that they occupy only this peninsula and that the other portions contain valuable mineral deposits, which give rise to the reasons for the proposed legislation.

Wednesday, Dec. 16.—The house had another long and fruitless civil service debate Wednesday afternoon, participated in by both republicans and democrats. Its feature was several sharp attacks on Assistant Secretary Vanderlip's action in keeping superannuated clerks in the treasury department at reduced salaries, his critics saying it amounted to creating a new class of officials.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The convention of business men which met in Indianapolis last January and authorized the appointment of the monetary commission will be called together again on Wednesday to consider the recommendations of the mission's report. This was decided upon Wednesday at a meeting of the executive committee of the convention at the Arlington hotel. The new convention will be held in Indianapolis on January 3.
